SUSTAINABLE CHANGE BY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Welcome to the 2nd Liechtenstein Dialogue for Development

The world is changing at an unprecedented pace. Digitalisation and the big trends are having a huge impact on our society. What is our role in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals and what is in for us. What is the contribution of businesses and why are partnerships so essential. Why is an efficient Development Aid so important for our businesses and our society.

At the Liechtenstein Dialogue for Development 2019, we would like to discuss these important questions with a small group of leading CEO's, politicians, millennials and family business leaders, who are driving their business responsibly and with commitments to society. Join us in open discussions and in the search for constructive solutions.

We are very pleased to welcome you to our event.

With kind regards

Initiator

To support the low-income families and children in Cambodia, Smiling Gecko pursues an innovative, systemic approach, aimed at sustainable improvement of living conditions within a community. Since the beginning of 2014, Smiling Gecko's vision has been to build a holistic cluster platform, with projects in agriculture, tourism, crafts and schooling, which provide training opportunities and create sustainable jobs. The economic surplus from the financially-sustainable projects is channeled to finance the school, providing access to quality education to local children. This creates an effective model of a well-functioning rural community, which provides education, decent work and sustainable income to all its members.
